KING CASE

Crime; Murder; Texas

MEMPHIS (AP)—Sheriff William Morris said yesterday it was uncertain whether James Earl Ray will appear in criminal court today to hear his attorneys make motions in his behalf.

Through the attorneys, Ray, charged with the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., will ask court permission to have a series of pictures made of him in his closely guarded cell. He said he wanted to sell the pictures to raise more money for his defense.

He also will ask the court to permit him to confer privately with writer William Bradford Huie. Huie reportedly paid an estimated $35,000 to Ray for a handwritten document purported to be Ray's account of his movements in the months before King was slain by a sniper's bullet.

Huie wrote a series of magazine articles that hinted at a conspiracy in the King murder.

Huie himself will appear before the Shelby County Grand Jury today under subpoena to tell what he knows about the alleged conspiracy. He was ordered to bring with him the handwritten manuscript he bought from Ray and all other
